

Cephalanthus occidentalis

Family: Rubiaceae

Common Name: Buttonbush

- Height: 5-12'
- Spread: 4-8'
- Light requirements: Full sun to part shade
- Soil: humusy, wet
- Flower: tubular, 5-lobed, fragrant, white
- Growth: Deciduous shrub
- Native Origin: North America
- Interesting Fact: The sphere-like flower heads of a Buttonbush attracts both bees and butterflies. Due to the Buttonbush's ability to thrive in wet soils, this native plant is great for rain gardens!

<http://www.missouribotanicalgarden.org/PlantFinder/PlantFinderDetails.aspx?kempercode=g830>